SOLUTION

Via a very simple and intuitive smartPerform interface, presenters, lecturers and participants alike immerse themselves into the education process. smartPerform provides a remarkable and easy way to control all of the technology while being able to access the presentation content and utilize interactive annotation in any instance.

smartPerform offers the presenters and lecturers a variety of comfortable options: From running their lectures with an attached laptop as popular, to bringing a flash drive with additional content or accessing the content which has been prepared and sent to the academy in advance. Popular applications, such as Microsoft Excel, Powerpoint, or Internet Explorer as well as central stored academy information and online services can be started with one touch. The smartPerform whiteboarding function allows annotating on any source and the ability to save and share those annotations immediately.

smartPerform provides interfaces to the A/V control system, providing easy access to media control options such as showing an attached camera live image from another room. The room and event booking system is also connected, so that smartPerform knows exactly which devices are available – and dynamically adapts the user interface accordingly. Does the sunshine require closing the window blinds? smartPerform also includes scenes for different weather conditions.

The layout and design of the interface, while fully flexible to be adapted to different user requirements, follows an App-like design, helping users new to A/V technology to relate to the interface and control it with ease.

The academy itself and the IT services staff benefit from smartPerform as well. The number of service calls by presenters who have trouble to getting the technology to work has been reduced to a level, where such calls only concern hardware failures and malfunctions, but never usability issues.

smartPerform enables the efficient hardware utilization over several rooms, scalable up to a professional conference center with over 500 rooms of different size and focus, integrating all kinds of applications, contents and of course equipment 🌈
